That is definitely ok with me! There wouldn't be any custom color charge, this time, due to the order size. However, any orders in the future that wouldn't be too large, would possibly have custom color charges.

A good rule of thumb is, anything that is over $7,500, will usually have the custom color fee waived. It varies by case though!

Just let me know when you officially decide on the color you want!

Dear Brandon:

I think that the BID should move away from that custom "light green" color - that's why I selected the Hunter Green. Plus I am sure that the custom color is an up charge.

Thanks

Ok, I will get working on this! In the past, it looks like you guys had ordered a custom color green.

Would you want these trash cans to match those?

Hi Lisa,

I wanted to check in with you, since I know that you were looking to get some items using our free shipping promotion. I believe you mentioned that your board meeting was late in the month, but I still wanted to check in.

The last day to receive money and orders is Monday for us. I know that the Entertainment district is taking advantage of this, and am hopeful that you guys can too! It really is a great way to save a nice chunk of money on these products.

Were you still looking at getting some products?
